Other Key highlights –

- Labour Issues & On-going Construction Work – Currently there are 1.17 lakh labours are on site and L&T requires at least 2 lakh labours to ramp up the execution. Some of the sub-contractors are arranging buses to bring back migrant labour at site. Currently L&T is adding 1500-2000 labours per day and planning it to increase to 3000 labours per day in the next few days. There are lots of labours coming back from Middle east which the company is thing of hiring it. The company is working with 40% labour capacity and management expects the normalization will take another 40-45 days. The company already lost 8-9% of yearly revenue due to lockdown. Although 90% of the project for L&T became operational, labour availability remained a challenge.
- Working Capital Cycle – The working capital cycle increased from 18% to 23% of sales as the payment from public sector is not good .A major part of working capital stretch happened due to supportive vendor funding and was less due to credit quality deterioration of the clients. Further, the company doesn't see any stretch in the working capital cycle going ahead as it has policy to collect and spend.

3. Execution challenges to Order book – The existing order book of INR 3,04,000 cr will not face any major execution or payment challenges. During the year, L&T removed slow-moving projects worth INR 29,000 cr from its order book. The slow moving orders are from Andhra Pradesh and some are building construction orders. However, management expects order inflows to get deferred due to current liquidity conditions.
4. Government Order Status – None of the central, state or any government agency is deferring the on-going projects. Currently 80% orders are from central, state or any other government agency and out of it 50% are funded by multilateral agency and 50% directly by the government. Currently, 22-23% of order book is from Maharashtra. The management is of the view that, all existing projects in the North and east will get push as the government will try to provide employment to migrant labour.
5. International Orders – International orders are not facing any payment issue, however the management expects new inflow will be challenging going ahead. Currently 25% of the overall order book is from international market and among that 14% is from Middle East and 10% is from Africa. Management believes the existing projects in Middle East will not face any execution or payment related issues. However, new project winning in a low crude oil price scenario will be challenging.
6. E&A division sales - L&T's sales of E&A division to Schneider may get delayed due to lockdown; however the transaction will not be cancelled and company will receive INR 14,000 cr from the sale of the division within next 6-8 months. Part of proceeds will be utilised for reducing Hyderabad Metro debt.
7. Comfortable liquidity position - The company's core EPC business remained debt free beyond certain working capital requirements and L&T as a group is not facing any liquidity challenge. The financial business i.e L&T Finance, requires capital in 2-3 years depending upon the growth L&T Finance will not require any stress-based equity infusion in the near term. However, the company will look at it at the 2nd Half of the year.
8. Hydrocarbon Business- The on-going projects in hydrocarbon business is progressing well but the new orders from Middle east may slow down due to lower crude.
9. Hyderabad Metro – The Company may infuse equity capital into Hyderabad Metro to make the project viable after the ridership is impacted due to Covid-19. The company is looking to monetize Hyderabad Metro through InvIT. Hyderabad is IT hub and majority of rider is IT related, so WFH will negatively impact the estimated ridership based on fare collection. The company has applied for moratorium in Hyderabad Metro.
10. High Speed train projects may take the balance sheet to high cost and limited resources

Outlook & Valuation: Positive

Overall in a muted domestic ordering scenario and tough external environment, company has given a healthy order inflow. This has been made possible on the back of L&T's diversified book both geographical and sectorial. We believe, consolidation will be a key trend in infra sector and L&T with its strong brand, light balance sheet will be a major beneficiary of the industry consolidation. Going ahead there will be challenges would be there but they are all general to the industry as a whole. We expect L&T's execution to remain subdued in Q1FY20 due to nation-wide lockdown and labour availability constraints. However, We expect L&T to be major beneficiary of the current situation in long term as its competitiveness will improve as compared to other cash starved developers. At CMP of INR 955, the stock is trading at 20x / 14x of FY21/22E EPS. We have a BUY rating on the stock with a target price of INR 1257, on SOTP valuation.
